No Inflation to Come In Canada States Dunning

Forward Steps in Control of Credit Will Continue, Declares Finance Minister; Heaps Pensions-at-sixty Motion Declared Out of Order in Commons After Number Have Stated Views.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The House of Commons today reverted to its normal division into government and opposition after an unusual display of interparty alliances and intra-party divisions yesterday during which Finance Minister Dunning expressed direct opposition to any scheme of inflation, this being his first major pronouncement on monetary policies since the King government went into office.

This afternoon the order of business was the estimates and on such occasions it is the government that proposes expenditure of money and the opposition which criticizes as too much or too little.

PENSIONS DISCUSSION

Pensions for persons over the age of sixty and exclusion of Orientals, both proposals advanced from the C.C.F. group, accounted for yesterday's exhibition of peculiar agreements and disagreements.

The House heard Conservative Leader Bennett arguing for fair treatment for the Liberal government and expressing sympathy and a measure of agreement with Finance Minister Dunning and at the same time endorsing the general principle of pensions as advanced by A. A. Heaps, C.C.F. Winnipeg North, Mr. Heaps' (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

BOY IGNITES MOTHER'S PYRE

Flames in Cemetery Grove Wipe Out All That Was Mortal of Karmi

Three months ago, Karmi, a delicately featured little Hindu woman, came across the ocean from her home in India to join her husband, Kartar Singh, here in Victoria. She had been married to him fifteen years ago in India.

Accustomed to the hot, almost tropical sun of the India plains, she was not prepared to endure the cold and dampness of a northern sea-coast winter here. She took a cold, which developed into pneumonia and this week she died in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Yesterday afternoon the Hindu colony of Victoria escorted her remains to the cremation grove at the Royal Oak Cemetery. There on a pile of cordwood they laid her, coffinless, wrapped in a (Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

It was understood the company was to take back one of three men whose discharge precipitated the strike, and the men were to work overtime to make up for the lost days.

Convicts at Joliet, Ill., Also Found Playing Poker For Big Stakes

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 21.—Warden Roy Best of the Colorado state prison, a member of the commission, invited to study prison conditions after the slaying of Richard Love by a fellow convict here January 28, said today testimony of inmates pictured "conditions nothing less than astounding."

Hundreds Freed From Spain's Jails

Martial Law in Numerous Areas While Leftists Continue Celebrations After Election; Deaths Total 27

Madrid, Feb. 21.—Civil guards killed two extremist rioters and wounded ten more today at Boluñes del Conado, Huelva province, raising the total of election dead to twenty-seven persons.

The new leftist government of Manuel Azana was forced to declare martial law in many communities as a result of increased rioting by the celebrating leftists.

Civil guards and troops were active everywhere, attempting to restore order while hundreds of political prisoners were released from jails.

Red flags were raised by Communists in several isolated villages. The killings at Boluñes del Conado were precipitated by a crowd of extremists who attacked Conservative of the village.

The civil guards, Spain's semi-military constabulary, tried to break up (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

OUTDOOR CREMATION WITH HINDU RITES

The upper picture shows the mourners gathered around the pyre in the grove at Royal Oak Cemetery yesterday afternoon as the body of Karmi, the wife of Kartar Singh, was laid out. At the head of the pyre stands the husband and Bhag Singh, the thirteen-year-old son, who a few minutes later with a torch set his mother's funeral pyre ablaze. In the other scene, the fire is well under way, after the pile of wood had been saturated with oil. The ancient Hindu sacred ceremonies out of the Granth, the Sikh Bible, were performed before the fire was started. Later the ceremonies were confined at the Hindu Temple on Smith's Hill. Where the facilities of modern electrical crematories are available, the Hindus make use of them. They refuse to allow their dead to be disposed of by burial, which they hold is an uncivilized, primitively pagan, gruesome and unsanitary custom.

Three Pepper Pool Leaders Are Jailed

G. Bishirgian and J. Howeson Sentenced in London to One Year; L. Hardy Nine Months

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Feb. 21.—Garabed Bishirgian, John Howeson and Louis Hardy, promoters of the abortive pepper pool in this city early last year, were found guilty of fraudulent operations today.

Bishirgian and Howeson were sentenced in the Old Bailey Court to one year's imprisonment. Hardy received nine months. The three convicted men, who led one of the most spectacular drives ever made on world commodity markets and whose failure rocked the city, were charged with "being parties to making, circulating and publishing a prospectus which was false in material particulars in relation to a public issue of shares in James and Shakespear Co. PRESIDENT BENES of Czechoslovakia

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Feb. 21.—Pope Pius XI has requested Edward Benes, President of Czechoslovakia, to act the part of peacemaker between Premier Mussolini and the fascist powers in regard to the Ethiopian war, the French capital heard today.

Whether this move to unite the "peace lover in the Vatican" and Czechoslovakia's pacifist diplomat will succeed, depends on two conditions which M. Benes has posed, and on which alone he will consent, according to the newspaper L'Ouvre.

These are:
1. Italy must reveal the minimum terms on which it will accept peace.
2. If these terms are achieved Italy must promise definitely to accept a settlement of the conflict.

In Tumultuous Scene Sarraut Ministry Wins Over Groups of Right

STORM MAY END SNOWFALL

Unless Pacific Disturbance Felt Here, However, Snow May Continue

Winter clung stubbornly to Victoria today as a heavy snow-storm beat down over the city and surrounding districts, with every prospect of more to come during the day.

THREE INCHES
At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon three inches of snow had been recorded in the official instruments at Gonzales Hill. The temperature had risen to thirty-three degrees.

On the Malahat Highway snow was falling steadily. There were four inches there yesterday evening and another four inches had fallen up to noon. Up-land points also reported snow this morning.

In Vancouver the snow commenced to fall at 11:30 o'clock.

Unless a great ocean storm centred off the coast of Washington makes itself felt here, Victoria may have more snow tonight, it was indicated at Gonzales this morning.

The temperature at noon was 32 degrees.

After a mild period yesterday afternoon, during which some rain fell, it commenced to snow. This turned to sleet during the night, but again at 8 o'clock there was snow, which continued all morning. At noon it showed signs of thinning.

Vancouver, Feb. 21 (Canadian Press)—Residents of Vancouver and the lower mainland today welcomed a return of normal weather conditions as an overcast sky with a threat of rain succeeded the bright but cold days and colder nights of the past two weeks.

The thermometer touched a low of 33 above zero overnight, the first time it has been above freezing since the cold snap settled over the province two weeks ago today.

A trace of snow fell in suburban Vancouver during the early morning hours, but later turned to a drizzle that lasted several hours.

Plebiscite On Plan Proposed

Vancouver Member Suggests Public Be Given Vote on Health Insurance

A new proposal today entered the controversy over health insurance, now looming as the biggest issue of the coming session of the Legislature, when Gordon S. Wismer, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, suggested that a provincial-wide plebiscite be taken on the question before the House takes action.

Visiting Victoria today, Mr. Wismer declared that if a vote were taken this summer and the voters expressed themselves in favor of health insurance, the measure could be brought down at the fall session of the Legislature.

"I am not necessarily against a system of health insurance," the Vancouver member said, "but I am not satisfied as to the public demand for it. It is a vital subject, affecting more than half the population, both financially and in treatment of disease, and I think the public should have the right to decide."

Precedents for such action could be found in the former plebiscite on liquor, issues, Mr. Wismer said.

LEFTIST PARTIES GAIN IN JAPAN
Tokyo, Feb. 21.—A gain of fourteen seats in Parliament for candidates of proletarian parties (the leftists of Japan) featured national election returns tonight.

The proletarians, who held three seats in the last Parliament, had elected seventeen to the next House on the basis of early returns. The votes already counted are mainly from city districts.

On the basis of these returns, the Minseitō Party, closely allied with the government of Premier Admiral Katsuo Okada, was leading the Seitokai Party by 105 to 84 seats.

France Witnessing "Awakening of Conscious Republican Strength," Says Premier, Denouncing Attacks on Government; Confidence Vote for Premier is 380 to 151.

Canadian Press from Havas

Paris, Feb. 21.—Premier Albert Sarraut today won the wild acclaim of Radical, Socialist and Communist members of the Chamber of Deputies by hailing the People's Front as the "awakening of conscious republican strength" in France.

ALBERT SARRAUT
Premier of France

In a tumultuous scene in the chamber which ended with a crushing vote of confidence in Premier Sarraut, the head of the government denounced the deputies of the extreme right who charged the government with responsibility for attacks on Royalists, following the recent Royalist assault on Leon Blum, Socialist leader.

The chamber voted confidence in Premier Sarraut by 380 to 151.

PUBLIC OPINION

"Popular indignation was not confined to the Chamber of Deputies," stated the Premier.

M. Franklin-Bouillon, right wing deputy, reproached Premier Sarraut for heading a government which wins the applause of the Communists.

Premier Sarraut then demanded an immediate vote of confidence, and the ballot was taken.

DEFENCE OF LIBERTY URGED

Canadian Press from Havas
Paris, Feb. 21.—The United States must join with Britain and France to preserve democracy and spare their peoples the tyranny of dictatorship, Andre Siegfried, famed French publicist, declared this evening in a Washington Day address before the American Club of Paris.

The three great democracies should stand together as the chief defenders of individual liberty, he said.

The distinguished audience included Premier Albert Sarraut and Jesse Isidor Straus, United States Ambassador to France.

"The countries of the three countries," he symbolized by this gathering," M. Siegfried pointed out, "the hosts are American, the guests are French and the language is English."

"The United States equally with France and Britain have become a defender of the liberty, the individual, freedom of thought and the humanism of the renaissance."

"I remain a good European in saying the three countries should stand together to preserve this common human and political treasure."

MUSTARD GAS IS USED IN WAR

Italians Also Dropping Incendiary Bombs on Towns in Ethiopia; Defenders Report; Italian Claim of Heavy Ethiopian Losses in Bombardment Denied By Addis Ababa

By Christian Ozanne, correspondent of the Havas News Agency.
Addis Ababa, Feb. 21.—Italian battle planes have dropped mustard gas and incendiary bombs in a series of air attacks on southwestern and northern Ethiopian towns, the government announced today.

The most severe attacks were launched against Ghighier, about 150 miles southeast of Addis Ababa, and Magalo. Large numbers of civilians were reported seriously affected by the gas.

Three civilians were killed in a raid on Koram, in the northern war zone, and many houses were destroyed.

market trading organization headed by Bishigian.

The last few days of the trial brought a large number of well-known market personalities to the court.

The defence filed notice of appeal. The trial lasted nine days with estimated daily costs of $25,000, some of England's ablest lawyers serving on both sides.

NO LAW AGAINST CORNERS
Mr. Justice Atkinson, in his charge to the jury, called attention to the fact that the pepper corner which failed was the background in the case.

"If you can corner a commodity, corner it," the judge advised. "There is no law against it. You may think it is not a very nice thing to do, but there is nothing legally wrong about it."

Attorney-General Sir Thomas Inskip opened the case nine days ago for the prosecution. He reviewed the circumstances leading to the pepper "fiasco" and detailed the intricate transactions, Bishigian, Hardy and Howson, he said, had cornered 11,248 tons of pepper.

The defendants then learned, he declared, that 6,000 tons of pepper were en route to London from the Orient, and faced the necessity of "dumping" their accumulated stocks or raising funds to purchase the additional 6,000 tons. The former course would have sent pepper prices crashing, Sir Thomas said, and the defendants resorted to public subscription to raise funds to purchase the new supply.

The prospectus did not reveal the precarious situation, Attorney-General Inskip charged. He also outlined the financiers' operations in liquid shells, which he said were similar but on a smaller scale.

Transcanada Road Will Be Considered With Other Schemes to Create Em- ployment, Says Hon. N. M. Rogers; Economic Justification Needed

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—Proposed expenditures for the Transcanada Highway and other joint works projects would be given the same consideration which all other proposed expenditures would receive by the Dominion Government, Labor Minister Rogers said in a statement issued today.

Mr. Rogers denied he had ever said the Transcanada road would not and could not be completed because of its cost.

The minister was shown a report of a speech made yesterday evening at the annual dinner of the Ontario Good Roads Association by Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests. Mr. Heenan was reported as saying Mr. Rogers had said the highway could not be completed because of its cost.

JUSTIFIABLE RESULTS
Mr. Rogers said:
"If Mr. Heenan has been correctly reported, all I can say is that he is misinformed, as there is no truth in these statements. Never on any occasion have I said the Transcanada Highway would not be completed. I did say, and I repeat, that expenditures at this time for the Transcanada Highway, as for any other purpose, must show economic justification and result in relieving the unemployment situation. I have made no reference to any particular province."

He hoped the House would lose no time in voting down the MacInnis resolution.

B.C. DISCUSSED
The franchise for Orientals in British Columbia played an important part in the discussion, which had not ended at the 11 o'clock adjournment.

The Prime Minister said it could be discussed when the franchise act was under review. Several Liberal members expressed downright opposition, while J. S. Woods, C.C.F. leader, and Mr. MacInnis were in favor of granting the franchise.

The Vancouver member took the attitude that if Orientals were denied the right to vote, no more should be allowed in the country. As long as they were here it would be better "to try and do everything possible to make them a part of our Canadian citizenship, having pride in our institutions, than by creating prejudices about them in the minds of the ignorant because of their color."

DOCKHOBORS' POSITION
Mr. MacInnis said British Columbia Dockhobors were disfranchised, but he believed the present government intended changing that regulation because of the Liberals' attitude when in opposition.

To Mr. MacInnis's speech Premier King replied for the government.

He said Mr. MacInnis evidently favored giving the franchise to Orientals, but his resolution meant something else, entirely—exclusion of Orientals from the country.

Granting of the franchise to British Columbia Orientals was a subject for the Legislature in that province, Mr. King said. That was the starting point.

BY AGREEMENT
There were two methods of dealing with the problem of Oriental immigration. One was by exclusion, as suggested by the Vancouver member. This method created ill-feeling and resentment and was dangerous and bad. The other method was by agreement with the nations concerned, by discussing the question with their governments and putting before them the situation in Canada.

This had been the method pursued by all governments in the past, and it had worked well. Japan had lived up to the terms of its agreement to the letter.

EFFECT ON TRADE
Development of trade on the Pacific was of the utmost importance to British Columbia, said Mr. King. Any act of exclusion against the people on the other side of the Pacific would soon put an end to Canada's trade.

NEILL'S VIEWS
A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, said he had no objection to anyone advocating votes for Orientals, but Mr. MacInnis might have framed his resolution in a different way. Had he been framing it he would have made it honestly in favor of votes. Instead Mr. MacInnis tried to confuse the question by a reference to exclusion.

J. S. Woodworth suggested the question be referred to the committee on industrial and international relations. He talked by resolution out, and it remains for further discussion at a later session.

KIDNAP HOAX YOUTH CLEARED
New York, Feb. 21.—Young Caleb Milne IV went free today of any charges growing out of the hoax kidnapping of himself he perpetrated for publicity last December.

Charges of extortion against the actor, member of a socially prominent Philadelphia family, were dropped yesterday when a federal grand jury returned no indictment.

The extortion charge grew out of "notes" Milne wrote to his family after he had disappeared from his New York apartment in December. After he had been missing a week he was found, gagged and bound, on a road near Doylestown, Pa. He later admitted the "kidnapping" was a hoax.

Arraignment followed an inquest at which a coroner's jury held Morrow criminally responsible. His wife was found dying in their home with her skull fractured and one lung pierced with an ice pick.

Orientals Are Debated By M.P.'s

Premier King Asks Commons to Reject MacInnis Ex- clusion Resolution

Ottawa, Feb. 21.—The position of Orientals in Canada was debated in the Commons yesterday evening, Premier King declaring this was not the time for Canada to offend Oriental nations by laying down rigid bars against Chinese, Japanese and Hindu immigration.

He was opposing a resolution proposed by Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. Vancouver South, which would exclude all races to which the franchise is not awarded.

"I cannot imagine anything at this time," the Prime Minister warned, "that would create more difficulty, more in the way of strife and hatred, than to bring up a question of this sort."

He hoped the House would lose no time in voting down the MacInnis resolution.

B.C. DISCUSSED

Vancouver, Feb. 21.—Vancouver sessions of the Regina Riot Commission were concluded today and Judge A. E. Doak, commissioner, announced he would leave at the week-end for Calgary, where he will hear four witnesses Tuesday before returning to Regina.

Hearings started here Monday afternoon and ended at noon today. Principal witness at today's concluding session, Malcolm Bruce, representing the district committee of the Communist Party, denied Communists had supported the relief camp strikes in order to promote a general strike of take part in anti-paed waterfront troubles as had been charged by several previous witnesses.

"The position of the Communist Party toward the relief camp workers was the same that it is to all workers," Bruce declared.

New York, Feb. 21.—Young Caleb Milne IV went free today of any charges growing out of the hoax kidnapping of himself he perpetrated for publicity last December.

Charges of extortion against the actor, member of a socially prominent Philadelphia family, were dropped yesterday when a federal grand jury returned no indictment.

The extortion charge grew out of "notes" Milne wrote to his family after he had disappeared from his New York apartment in December. After he had been missing a week he was found, gagged and bound, on a road near Doylestown, Pa. He later admitted the "kidnapping" was a hoax.

DECLARE SOVIET STATE
One hundred guards, armed with machine guns, were dispatched to the town of Beldia, in the far southwestern province of Huelva, where Communists proclaimed a Soviet State and raised the red flag.

Police clashed with another group of demonstrators, displaying the red flag in Hogo Pildarte, Avila province, and one woman was killed there.

AMNESTY SOUGHT
The government decided to ask President Niceto Alcala Zamora's signature to a decree authorizing the cabinet to submit to the permanent parliamentary committee the question of an immediate amnesty for all political prisoners.

The entire nation was under a state of alarm, putting the police forces on guard; martial law extended to Alicante, Cordoba, Murcia, Valencia and Zaragoza provinces.

In view of the mounting demonstrations by the leftists, the government arranged for an early meeting of the parliamentary commission on the amnesty question.

Informed sources said a decree of general amnesty for all political prisoners—many of them held since the socialist revolution of October, 1934—probably would be drafted tomorrow to become effective upon publication in the official gazette Monday.

SCHOOL SAVED BY STUDENTS

Teacher Organized Bucket Brigade to Check Royston Fire

Royston, Feb. 21.—Royston School narrowly escaped destruction by fire Tuesday morning, the building being saved, according to a member of the school board, mainly by the presence of mind of the teacher, Miss Norma Farnham, who, assisted by Roy Davis, of the Davis Garage and several pupils of the school, organized a bucket brigade and held the fire in check until the arrival of the Courtenay volunteer fire department.

In the absence of the janitor through illness, Mr. Davis took the fire after the furnace and had put on a good fire. Miss Farnham, Miss Cleland of Merville, who is a student at the Normal School, taking a week's experience teaching at Royston, and several of the pupils first noticed smoke rising from the register in the floor of the schoolroom. Miss Farnham investigated and discovered that the pipe from the furnace had become overheated and had set fire to a wooden partition. She immediately notified Mr. Davis, who put in a call for the Courtenay fire department, which responded promptly. This was the first occasion that the department used the booster tank on the new truck, which carried 200 gallons of water. They were satisfied with the result although they did not have the opportunity of putting it to a thorough test as it was not necessary to use it to its full capacity, the fire having been held successfully in check.

The fire worked up the partition to the cupboard where books were stored and among the things destroyed were the decorations of the Christmas tree.

New Agreement At Collieries

Cumberland, Feb. 21.—Negotiations between the management of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. and the Employees Agreement Committee resulted in an agreement being reached to extend the present agreement until October 31, 1936.

The only change in this agreement, which is the one in existence prior to the shutdown last August, is the addition of the following clause: "It is mutually agreed that in the event of either party, before the expiration of the above extension, deeming that conditions have changed, a special meeting or meetings may be called to discuss, or modify the original agreement if considered necessary."

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be able to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly 90 per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

DANGER SIGNS RECOMMENDED

Coroner's Jury Urges Authorities Protect Skaters at Bad Spots

Urging that the proper authorities should take steps to place danger signals at places where skaters may meet with accidents, a coroner's jury yesterday afternoon decided that Harry Green and Jessie Alexander, drowned at Langford Tuesday, came to their death accidentally.

The jury's recommendation was put in as a rider to the verdict which was reached after a few moments' consultation. The inquest was held at Sands Mortuary before Coroner F. C. Part.

Only three witnesses were heard, giving evidence indicating that Mr. Green and Miss Alexander had skated right off the edge of the ice into open water which the jury could not see because of darkness.

Marion Alexander, sister of the girl, testified she went out on a skating party with Jessie at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. They skated together for some time. Later she saw Jessie and Mr. Green skating. The last time she saw them was at 9:15 o'clock. Later she made some enquiry and learned they had skated down the lake. It was not until 10 o'clock she became really anxious and started to search for them.

SEARCH IN THE DARK

Sergeant Richard Harvey of the provincial police told of receiving the report at 1:15 o'clock Wednesday morning. He and Constable Gerald Davis went to the lake but, because of the darkness, could not pursue a search of the ice, although he had both ends of the lake patrolled in the hope the pair had reached shore. He dispatched officers to continue the search at dawn.

The sergeant produced watches worn by the victims. That of Mr. Green had stopped at 9:30 o'clock and that of Miss Alexander at 9:40 o'clock. Constable Davis testified how, shortly after daylight, the search party had found skate marks on the ice leading up to open water at the north end of the lake. They were the only skate marks in the immediate vicinity and indicated the pair had been skating together. The ice at the edge was unbroken.

"It looked as if they had skated right up to the edge and taken 'he next step into the water," he said.

TWENTY FEET FROM ICE

Dragging operations were commenced after equipment was secured, he said, and the bodies were recovered from a point about twenty feet from the edge of the ice. Mr. Green, he said, was wearing a heavy leather jacket and both had their skates and boots still on.

The open space of water, he said, extended about eighty yards across and was twenty feet deep.

Charging the jury, the coroner commented that there was not much evidence, because no one was near enough to see or hear anything at the time of the occurrence.

It did not appear from the evidence, he added, that the drowning was "any person's fault. It was taking chances for the pair to go around the lake at night unless they were perfectly familiar with the surroundings and added, "but everybody takes chances."

SEEK SAANICH RELIEF RAISE

Unemployed Delegation Asks Scale Be Raised to City Level

An increase in the municipal scale of relief in accord with the recent increased government relief grants was sought by a delegation of sixteen unemployed at the Saanich Council meeting yesterday evening.

The request was deferred until consideration of the 1936 estimates. W. B. White and P. D. Wilson presented the case for the delegation.

Mr. White asked that the Saanich scale be brought to the level of the City of Victoria. As everyone knew commodity prices were rising steadily and relief recipients were absolutely unable to provide for their families, as a result.

COULD PROVIDE MORE

With the increase in the government contributions Saanich could provide the city scale and relief costs would still be substantially less than last year, he said.

Mr. Wilson reiterated this stand and said children were suffering malnutrition as a result. Councillor Leslie Pasmore, Ward Seven, said he agreed with the delegation and moved that the request be granted and the city scale be adopted in the municipality. This resolution was seconded by Councillor E. C. Warren, Ward Two.

Reeve Crouch suggested the question should go over until consideration of the estimates and a resolution to this effect was moved by Councillor W. R. Woods, Ward Four, and passed, with the stipulation that the delegations' request be kept in mind.

Councillors Pasmore and Warren voted against the motion.

The council took the same action with a letter from the Ward Four Sevenoaks C.C.P. Club, containing the same request.

NAVAL ACCORD BEING DRAFTED

Four-power Agreement May Be Ready Next Week For Initiating

Canadian Press from Havas

London, Feb. 21.—The technical accord for the qualitative limitation of naval armaments may be ready early next week for initiating by the delegates of the four-power naval conference, it was said in naval circles here today.

The prediction was based on the fact Charles Corbin, French ambassador to Great Britain and head of the French delegation, called on Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today, presumably to settle the last points standing in the way of acceptance of the instrument. Mr. Corbin has just returned from Paris with new instructions from French Foreign Minister Pierre Etienne Flandin.

HEALTH COMES FIRST

OPponents of PROVINCIAL health insurance, claim that this form of social service has been a failure in Germany and Great Britain. The facts, of course, give no support to the argument. As mentioned in these columns the other day, a Nazi propagandist, Herr Gustav Hartz, has written prolifically in an attempt to prove its futility in Germany and his claims have been advanced to support the contention that State Health Insurance should be abolished or so changed in its operation as to rid it of solid fundamentals.

We also have quoted Dr. Henry A. Sigerist, Professor of History of Medicine at the Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore, who, while recognizing that no social legislation is perfect, either in its original conception or operation, declared that the German plan had "served the people's health well for half a century, and no European country that has adopted a sickness insurance plan could ever afford to abandon it."

Supposing, for example, Mr. Baldwin were to suggest to the British Parliament that the British health insurance plan be dropped, what would happen to him? The answer is simple. But, of course, Mr. Baldwin, far from making any such suggestion, is, with the aid of actuarial advisers, trying to improve on the quarter-of-a-century-old measure.

Health insurance in England, by the way, has brought forth a statement from Sir Henry Brackenbury, a member of the Royal College of Surgeons, and who for years was chairman of the Council of the British Medical Association, which says in part:

Twenty-one years' actual experience of giving and receiving medical advice and treatment under a system of compulsory and contributory national health insurance has had certain definite results both upon the community and upon the medical profession. It must be understood by American readers that the British health insurance system has from its beginning in 1912 included in its medical benefits only the services of a general practitioner in the patient's home or at the doctor's office; that it does not include the services of specialists or hospital care. In addition to medical benefits, cash benefits amounting to a part of the wages are provided the insured person for a specified period during sickness. All persons employed at manual labor, and all other employed persons with annual incomes of less than £250 ($1,250) are legally required to insure under the act, these employees paying themselves approximately 40 per cent of the total cost, the employer paying about the same amount, and the state the remaining fifth. Over 15,000,000 persons are thus insured under the law and about 15,000 physicians have elected to serve them under its provisions, these physicians ordinarily giving only a part of their time to insurance practice and carrying on private practice also.

On the whole, and leaving out of account for the moment those features of the British system which are not directly concerned with the provisions of medical attendance and treatment, the results are beneficial to both; and when the expression "on the whole" is used it is not intended to imply that the benefit is just on the right side after nicely balanced consideration, but merely that there are some points of disadvantage which may be set over against an overwhelming preponderance of advantage. That this is so may be judged from the official resolution passed by the representative body of the British Medical Association almost without dissent: "The measure of success which has attended the experiment of providing medical benefit under the National Health Insurance Acts system has been sufficient to justify the profession in uniting to secure the continuance and improvement of an insurance system." It is some eight years ago that this resolution was passed, but since then it has been endorsed, further resolutions have been adopted pressing for an extension of the system to bodies of persons who are not at present included in it, and by a growing conviction, born of intimate experience, it is acknowledged that any suggestion of the abolition of the scheme would be received by an overwhelming and emphatic protest from the profession and insured population alike.

Certain industrial interests in this country and the United States have organized themselves in opposition to the principle of State Health Insurance. In the final analysis, however, the case of the plain citizen, who has a right to get proper medical care, will prevail. State Health Insurance, is, after all, a humanitarian proposition; and it is this aspect with which our province is concerned. The health of a people always must be a paramount consideration.

THE AVERAGE NOVEL

A YOUNG WOMAN AT THE UNIVERSITY of Chicago, digging around for one of those ponderous articles which graduate students must write if they are to win Ph.D. degrees, decided to have a go at statistics on the great reading public.

This task, which undoubtedly brought her into contact with some very dull people and some even duller literature, resulted in the discovery that six of every seven books which the general reader peruses are novels, and that only one of these six novels is much good. The rest, the student found, are pretty trashy.

Now all this is something less than the most important discovery of the year; but it is worth mentioning briefly, if only because there is more unadulterated bunkum being tossed around on the general subject of literature these days than on anything else.

Having noticed that our great men traditionally nourished their growing souls on books—read, usually, by the light of a pine knot in some wilderness cabin—we seem to have jumped to the conclusion that any book, even a very poor one, is better than no book at all; and that the man who spends much of his spare time reading is by that token a man of keen intellectual interests.

We might be wise to remember that a trashy book can be just as much a waste of time as a trashy show or an evening of trashy conversation.

There is nothing magical about a book, as a book. A great book can lift you up to the stars and make you kin, for a moment, to the angels; a poor book can deaden your mind and leave you just that much worse off than you were before you read it.

If life were perfectly satisfactory, we probably would read no books at all. For a book, after all, is something to which we turn when the world that can be imagined looks more attractive than the world that really exists.

Either we want to escape from the life that we have, or we want to see how someone wiser than ourselves looked at this tangled business of living.

A really good book can do wonders for us, in either field. In such a book as "Huckleberry Finn," for instance, we can roam in an enchanted land that makes us forget all the sorry imperfections of everyday life; in a book like "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," we can see life's bare bones, with innate human nobility somehow shining through all possible mischance and disaster.

But in the average novel we can get neither. Instead, we get only a chance to waste our time and deaden our senses. And the earnest citizen who devotes all his spare time to reading novels, under the impression that he is thereby leading an intellectual life, might in many cases be more profitably employed pitching horseshoes.

CANADA AND TOURISTS

PRESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT's reference to "Canada, the friendly neighbor," uttered when reciprocal trade agreements were being negotiated, finds a new application in Canada's attitude toward tourist traffic. Hon. Clarence D. Howe, Canada's recently-appointed Minister of Railways, discussing the urgent problems confronting his department, hinted that among these he regards the stimulation of travel across the international border as one of the most important, adding that to tourists in 1936 it would be Canada's policy to extend with genuine sincerity the neighborly hand of friendship. The Dominion government will continue to lend its best offices to the promotion of the tourist industry as a great factor in international trade.

Evidence is at hand to indicate that 1936 may see Canada's tourist volume at a new high level. Last year's traffic registered an increase of some 30 per cent over 1934, and the agencies credited with fostering tourist travel, including the Canadian Travel Bureau which is a branch of Mr. Howe's department, are constantly broadening their helpful activities. There is, too, the additional factor of unsettled conditions abroad, which means a diversion of travelers from war-threatened lands to the more friendly atmosphere of nearby Canada.

Mr. Howe feels that Canada has the attractions, and that tourists returning to the United States may be depended on to spread the good word about the Dominion as a holiday playground. From thousands of United States tourists, to whom questionnaires were sent, the government has learned that visitors to Canada set high store by the courtesy and friendliness they encounter. These qualities, indeed, may extend far beyond the ordinary understanding of the terms. Witness the reply from an Illinois tourist, who, in the space on the questionnaire reserved for additional comment, penned the following testimonial to Canada's tourist attractions: "Swell trip. Met lovely Canadian girl and married her."

VANCOUVER TAXI DRIVERS

THE TAXI DRIVERS OF VANCOUVER will not get their 1936 licenses unless they allow themselves to be fingerprinted. Failure to obtain licenses will result in immediate prosecution, with a maximum penalty of a $100 fine, or, if not paid, two months' imprisonment—for each offence. It seems curious that taxi-drivers should be singled out as a class who should be fingerprinted. There may be a few who drive cars for hire who do things which are not recognized by the law, but the majority of them are law-abiding citizens who naturally object to a civic ordinance which—by implication—puts them in the criminal category.

What Other Papers Say

MONEY IS NOT WEALTH
The Moose Jaw Times Herald

"Money is not wealth." The Christian Science Monitor says. "Money in itself cannot furnish a society with its material requirements. One cannot eat it, nor clothe oneself with it. Nor will it provide even the rudest shelter. Food, clothing, shelter—these and other goods and services sustain our living standard. And they have to be produced before they can be enjoyed. So we find that the only true economic terminology refers to those things which fill the needs of our community life. National wealth, in this terminology, is defined as the means of production in labor and equipment, and national income is defined as the production of goods through these means."

PLAIN LANGUAGE FOR ONCE
The Edmonton Bulletin

Major Douglas does not always talk like Einstein. He can be plain when he wants to be. He wanted to be plain, and was, when it came to commenting on the propriety of members of the Legislature taking exception to some things he had said about the Dominion Premier.

In words which were few, polite, but meaningful and very lucid, he told the Legislature "where to get off"—including, of course, the committee of the Legislature that is known as the cabinet.

The substance of it is that the Major will talk about political matters if he wants to, political matters including for his purpose the relations between the provincial and federal governments in regard to finance.

So that is that. It won't do any good for the government to cable the Major to stop talking. He won't, and say so. Talking where, as and about what he may choose is with him a personal right in no way hedged by his contract. He is being paid to give advice, not to take it.

If the legislators do not like what he says, that is just too bad; perhaps they can acquire the taste. That is up to them.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FULL LIFE

THE TORONTO STAR apparently is deeply distressed to find young women patronizing Ontario's beer parlors. Down there, by the way, they are called, in deference to Toronto's well-known conscience, by the euphonious name of "beverage parlors," the same way that undertakers are called morticians; hair-dressers, beauticians; and legs, limbs; and sheep's bellies, haggis.

The Vancouver Province has taken up the gaudy habits of Ontario's female young and also is deeply concerned. So far as I can make out, the view is held in Ontario that the beverage parlors are worse than the old-time bars, because women frequent them, whereas men weren't allowed in respectable barsrooms.

This idea is quite absurd and unfair on the face of it. There is no reason why women should be barred from the full life, the fuller the better, and some of them get an extremely full life out in Esquimalt of Saturday night. There is no reason why these finer products of our civilization, these fruits of our new age of leisure, should be monopolized by the male sex.

In the old days it was only because women hadn't yet achieved equal rights with men that they were kept out of barsrooms. When they got the vote, when they went to work in offices and ousted men from jobs because they were brainier and harder, they had the right to expect all the advantages of the male. They certainly had the right to drink as much as they pleased, where they pleased.

It is true, of course, that the spectacle of women guzzling in low places has helped to end forever the age of chivalry. It is true that where men always looked up to women in the home, they look down on them now, with a certain envy as they are so much abler in affairs; but this is all part of the Great Emancipation. Once women came out of the parlor they had to expect to imbibe some of the toadstools of the office. Once they asserted their right to live like men and broke the laws of biology, which seemed to indicate in a general way that they really weren't men but a different species—once women did that, they had to take all the consequences. So, alas, did the men.

It doesn't matter what Ontario does or Esquimalt does about beverages. The question goes far beyond liquor, far beyond beer, far beyond Ontario and Esquimalt. It is a defiance of nature, this attempt to make men out of women and women out of men, and the consequences are going to be grave. And you and the W.C.T.U. and all the King's horses can't do anything about it. Drink up, girls.

CHAMPION

SPEAKING OF BEER. A have just heard of a native Vancouver Island athlete who will yet make his mark in the field of more strenuous sport. This lad has broken all records in the beer parlors of the Island Highway. He has drunk five bottles in fifty-five seconds flat.

A noted Victoria lawyer, who told me about this great performance, said it was the most remarkable thing he had ever seen. "Simply tremendous," he said, and added in a hushed voice: "And he's only twenty-one years old yet, just in the legal limit, you know. Think what he will do when he gets into his stride." Yes, it is tremendous.

My lawyer friend thought himself quite an athlete, too. On a hot summer day he could stop at a beer parlor on the Island Highway and drink three bottles in a minute flat. At the particular inn which he patronizes this gentleman was regarded as the star performer, until this unknown youngster, this white hope, came along. Starting slowly at first—about three a minute—this lad has lately dumfounded the local drinkers of the neighborhood with his five bottles in fifty-five seconds.

I must say, however, that the na-seems generous about it. The thing, as my lawyer friend pointed out, is too big for mere neighborhood jealousy. The boys at this inn feel that they have developed a prodigy who will hold his own with the best in the world and they are proud of him. In a year or two, after intensive training, they believe he will be able to accomplish six bottles in a minute flat and then be ready for international competition. They believe he will sweep all before him at the next Olympic games and they are keeping his name dark now lest some other community—Vancouver, probably—lure him away by offers of a lucrative job in a financial house or in the City Hall. Here is a real island product. It is tremendous.

SPRING SONG

WHATEVER the weather experts may say, I always know when spring is just around the corner (as we used to say of prosperity in a certain period of depression long before the present period of prosperity). Thus I knew, while it was still freezing cold and blowing a blizzard, that spring was only a few days off. The pigeons in Judge Begbie's coat-tails told me.

Tennyson said that the finest line of English poetry, which he modestly ascribed to the judge's coat-tails, was "The moan of the pigeons in the coat-tails of the judge." I say, it is a perfect sounding board for the pigeons' groans, seems to throw their voices out with a superb refinement of sound.

Well, they have stopped moaning now and are singing their spring love songs. It happens every spring and several times thereafter, the pigeons believing, like Muscogee, in large families. They are busy courting in the judge's coat-tails, behind his back, on top of his head, on his ears and nose. The judge doesn't mind. His eyes are set on distant horizons and a few pigeons making love all over him from head to foot don't disturb his tranquility.

They are about to build their nests in the judge's gown, and also in the judge's pocket, and in the flowing robes of Chief Magistrate. Captain Cook is an easy-going Englishman, but Chief Magistrate, judging by his frown, doesn't like pigeons building their nests and conducting their intimate domestic arrangements all over him. He can't do anything about it. The pigeons will be perching on him long after Chief Magistrate and the present Legislature of British Columbia and you and I have been utterly forgotten, when naked savages roaming the jungle wonder about those curious carvings of creatures almost like men, but not quite.

Meanwhile, the pigeons are cooing and making love and you may be sure of an early spring. It is clearly written all over Judge Begbie, Captain Cook and Chief Magistrate, from head to foot.

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:—The Y.M.C.A. Hobby Fair committee wishes to extend through your columns its most grateful thanks for and appreciation of the assistance rendered by the Victoria Women's Institute, and in particular the following ladies of that institute who demonstrated in such an interesting manner their various handicrafts while the fair was in progress:

Mrs. J. L. White was the very able convener and she demonstrated carding. Cloth-making was taken care of by Mrs. William Feden. Weaving by Mrs. I. Austin, Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Bell; spinning by Mrs. E. S. Arnold; seaglass work by Mrs. G. Sexton.

The sincerest thanks of the committee are also extended to La-Col. Broome for his most marvelous doll's (Turn to Page 18, Col. 7)

TAKE Groves
BROMO QUININE

It's not a sign of wisdom or of will-power to suffer from a cold without taking measures to stop it at once. Even a slight cold can take hold quickly and develop seriously. The sensible thing to do when you catch cold is to treat it for what it is—an internal infection requiring internal treatment.

1. It opens the bowels gently but effectively.
2. It combats the cold germs and fever in the system.
3. It relieves the headache and "grippy" feeling.
4. It tones up the system and helps fortify against further attacks.

This is the kind of treatment a cold requires.

SALARIES ARE UNDER REVIEW

Saanich Council and Trustees in Debate Over
Increments

A delegation from the Saanich
School Board, assembled yesterday evening with the Municipal Council for a joint discussion on the issue of increments to high and elementary school teachers, to which the council took exception at its last meeting, when the trustees' estimates for the year were submitted.

The board's estimates provided for increments totaling $912, in addition to a sum of $2,850 provided for a similar purpose in last year's budget.
At the conclusion of the discussion the council laid the question on the table until the next meeting.

A move by Trustees F. G. Aldous and William Tomes to have the press excluded from the meeting met with unanimous rebuttal by the council, who refused to let any difficulties
the trustees might have had with the press interfere with the conference. Trustee Albert E. Hull, the other member of the school board delegation, voted with the council against going into committee.

ASKS EXPLANATION

In explaining the reason for calling the meeting, Reeve Crouch said the council wanted an explanation of the inclusion in this year's estimates of the salary increments.

Trustee Tomes, chairman of the board's finance committee, undertook the explanation on behalf of his colleagues.

He went back to 1933, when, he said, teachers had accepted drastic reductions in salaries to meet a new schedule drafted by the board. This schedule provided that when all teachers reached their maximum salaries, the salary roll would be $86,500.

Under the former salary schedule, which had been altered in 1933, this maximum would have been $123,200
if there had been no revision. In 1935
the allocation for salaries was $62,418 and this year it was $65,702.

While this represented a $3,283 increase, Mr. Tomes pointed out this increase only included $912 for salary
increments.

The remainder was made up of an allowance of $1,000 for substitutes during the year and $1,371 for an extra teacher, which had been necessitated by the increase in the number of Grade X pupils and a consequent creation of a new division.

TELS OBJECTIONS

Reeve Crouch voiced the opinion of the council when he said the chief objections were that the school board was providing more increments, after giving them last year, during years of depression when the council was forced to turn down requests from other municipal staffs for pay restorations and requests from unemployed for increased relief allowances.

This situation made the council's position a precarious one, he said, when estimates were being passed which included increments for well-paid teachers and yet these other refusals were being made.

In his defence of the board's action,
Trustee Aldous said the board had been bound to provide the increments by the agreement which had been made with the teachers under the new salary schedule. The withdrawing of the increments before the new schedule was drafted was a violation of the agreement with the teachers and it was a prime principle of good business to see that the terms were lived up to, he said.

Reeve Crouch took objection to the fact that teachers were reaching their salary maximums during depression years when others were being cut.
The trustees' argument against this was that the salary maximums had been drastically reduced under the 1933 schedule.

"Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water.
Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of taxing your system with strong medicines for a cold, try the way pictured above—the modern, easy way. Your own doctor will approve it. And it takes hold of even a bad cold almost immediately.
The "Aspirin" you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "Aspirin" Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Twenty Canadian factories manufactured 87,401 domestic washing machines in 1935, compared to 58-931 units in 1934. This output included 76,541 electric, 1,516 gasoline-driven, 70 waterpower, and 9,364 hand-operated machines.

you drive are
"Stop-and-Go"

Costly—unless you use a "STOP-and-Go" gasoline

You often make 5 stops just driving to the movies! 4 stops going to the grocer's! 3 stops dashing to the drugstore! No wonder you average over 30 stops a day . . . shift gears over 60 times a day!

For economy in stop-and-go driving, your gasoline needs 3 kinds of power . . . just as your car needs 3 shifts of gears. You need one kind of power for QUICK STARTS . . . one for FAST PICKUP and hill climbing . . . one for STEADY RUNNING. Super-Shell is the first gasoline with these 3 kinds of power in perfect balance. On sale at over 30,000 neighborly Shell stations from coast to coast.

NBC HONORS WASHINGTON

Broadcasts direct from scenes which figured prominently in the career of George Washington, and dramatizations of the events that took place together with a comprehensive description of the historic sites as they appear today, more than 160 years later, will be presented in a special full-hour programme tomorrow as the National Broadcasting Company's observance of the great statesman and patriot's anniversary.
NBC microphones will be taken to Valley Forge; the place at the Delaware River where the army crossed to defeat the Hessians at Trenton; Mt. Vernon, his home; West Point, where Benedict Arnold's treachery was discovered, and Independence Hall, in Philadelphia.
The dramatizations, based on authentic information, will be broadcast from the NBC studios in Radio City. The programme will be heard over combined coast-to-coast NBC networks from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. P.S.T. KGO and KPO head Pacific Coast stations, including KOMO releasing the broadcast.

TODAY'S HEALTH QUESTION
Q—What causes an accumulation of wax in the ears? Is this healthy or unhealthy?
A—Wax in the ears is a normal secretion. In most persons it is secreted in the proper amount, but occasionally the secretion is excessive. In such cases the wax becomes dry, and interferes with hearing. It is not usually injurious in any other way.
When it does so accumulate, it should be removed, preferably by a physician or a nurse. When the wax is too hard, the services of a physician may be needed.

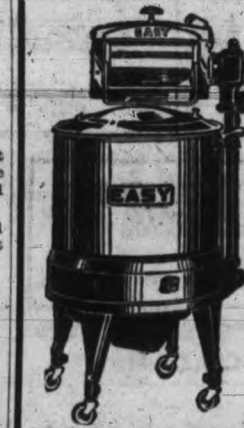

"THE COUNTRY DOCTOR"

A Serial Story
"No, you can't. That's true."
His voice was grave and he stood, as it were, convicted.
Katharine flushed, "You—you despise us all as wasters, don't you?"
"I do," said Michael Heather, on a note of honest surprise. "Wherever did you get such a notion?"
"Skip it," cried Katharine gayly. "I was just talking."
"I think you're grand," said the man soberly.
"Oh, Michael, do you really?"
The moment hung, poised, precious and fragile as a drop of summer dew. But what Michael would have said she was not to know. There was the angry bray of a French horn behind, Katharine, obedient to his challenge, answered her car to the right, in the narrow road, and a long, low chariot gleaming with cream colored paint and bright work swept past. Sally Moon was at the wheel.
She pulled up abreast of the man on the black horse. "Oh, Michael, don't forget about tonight!"
"I won't. His voice was expressionless."
"If you're a minute now I want to talk to you about those trotters, said Sally laughingly."
"Goodbye then," Katharine said coolly. She slid her car into gear and was off like a streak before he could detain her. Was there a gleam of triumph in Sally's opaque dark eyes as she passed?
"I hate her—how I hate her," Katharine cried to herself, taking the curves at a dizzy rate of speed.
"Don't forget about tonight, indeed! Pretending she owns him. Nasty little thing. Her curdly ways, too. I've heard about Sally Moon. Probably he tells everyone he thinks they're grand!"
Katharine drove her foot viciously down upon the gas-feed and the car leaped madly ahead.
What a fool she was to be losing her head about a pleasant young man who had a way with horses! What after all, did she know about him? Precisely nothing!
Katharine was very cool because Katharine was late for lunch. "Dr. John telephoned," Katharine said as

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Older people must be careful not to overeat. Persons over fifty-five years of age, in fact, should eat and drink a little less every year.
Moreover, they must choose food that is easily digestible and does not disagree with them. All foods likely to cause indigestion, such as rich and highly spiced dishes, should be avoided.
Since the teeth in old age are not what they were in younger days, the food eaten should be well chewed or strained. There are two periods of life in which the stomach and intestines do better with thin and soft foods—first and second childhood.
Older people should consider whether they do better with five small meals a day than with three larger ones. Large amounts of food, and particularly, the wrong kinds of food, may put a burden on the heart. Many people with weakened circulation of the blood have circulatory accidents immediately after eating a large meal.
Old people suffer, too, from disturbances of digestion because of the changes that have taken place in their body secretions. And they have difficulty in keeping infection away from their teeth.
The principal meal of the elderly person should be taken near the middle of the day, and may include soup, a small portion of meat, chicken, or fish, two well-sieved or broken-up green vegetables, and a little stewed fruit, with a small amount of tea, coffee or milk, according to individual preference.
As the older person tends to be overweight, he should avoid excessive amounts of sugars and starches. He should sidestep cereals, potatoes, macaroni, and spaghetti, except in small quantities.
An excessive intake of water, in addition, throws an unnecessary extra strain on the heart.
The bowels in old age are not as active as they were when the person was younger. In many instances, aged persons escape constipation by using mineral oil. This serves the purpose of softening the nutritional mass and making elimination easy. Mineral oil is practically harmless and adds years of health to many old people.
"And though, as mentioned previously, teeth grow less efficient with age, modern dentistry has made it possible for old people to chew steaks or vegetables with considerable fibrous content. For this reason, many an older person will try to handle foods with which the rest of his body may have difficulty.
Thereafter, he may resort to laxatives or cathartics to rid himself of accumulations of foods which he should have eaten.

And Michael Heather was a nobody. Katharine would be sure to designate him as "an upper servant."
"What was it John Kaye had said? "Don't let Bertine get your goat." But that was it. Bertine had dominated Katharine for years; it was hard to break the habit of obedience, of tacit submission to the older woman's will.
Katharine caught her breath. A man had ridden out of the lane. His crest of reddish hair gleamed in the sunlight. He wore breeches and an old blue jersey.
She had to step on the brakes rather suddenly. Michael rode up to the very side of the car.
Was there something quizzical in the look he now bent upon her? She strove for casualness and achieved it. "The top of the morning to you," Michael said gayly. "Thank the good Lord you're whole and safe after that spill!"
Katharine's heart settled down, like a homing bird in the nest, at the sound of the words.
CHAPTER XIII
The girl at the wheel of the big car sat alert and straight and golden in her white frock, her fair hair ruffled in the wind. She looked straight into the eyes of the man on the big black horse, but her eyes kept roving from the printed page as she reviewed the brief encounter of the morning.
"I think you're grand," Michael had said. Probably that didn't mean a thing.
Presently she felt asleep.

ROOSEVELT ON AIR TOMORROW

President to Be Heard From Philadelphia, Receiving Degree

President Roosevelt's address and ceremonies at Temple University in Philadelphia, where he will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence in his first public appearance in Philadelphia since he assumed the Presidency, will be broadcast over NBC and CBS networks from 7:05 to 8:00 a.m. P.S.T. tomorrow.
The ceremonies will be part of the Founder's Day celebrations at Temple, and will mark the ninety-third anniversary of the birth of the university's founder, Russell H. Conwell. The presentation will be made in Mitten Memorial Hall, a student recreational centre, with additional "spectators" located elsewhere on the campus listening to the broadcast.
The degree will be presented to the President by President George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, after which the President will make a brief talk.
"This—this is nice up here," commented the speaker, "I—lose to live on a farm."
"Yes, you would," he said, laughing. "Feeding pigs and gathering eggs and picking windfall apples."
"I would. Honestly."
He glanced significantly at her hands, those slender, well-mingled hands fresh from Isabel's ministering fingers. Katharine, accepting the unspoken comment, shrugged her shoulders.
"Can't help it that my life has been so easy."
"No, you can't. That's true."
His voice was grave and he stood, as it were, convicted.

5 YEARS AGONY WITH STOMACH PAINS

Relieved by first dose of this remedy

Sufferers from all forms of stomach trouble have cause to be deeply grateful to a remedy which is now being used in leading English hospitals. It has brought relief to thousands even after years of suffering.
One of many, many cases reported is that of Mr. F. J. a railwayman. "It's no joke to be in a signal box all night when you're suffering agonies from gastritis," he writes. "I did for five years. A month ago I was put to bed. The pain was so bad I couldn't stand it. Then I took Maclean Brand Stomach Powder and after the first dose I felt better. Now I can eat anything."
If you suffer from indigestion, gastritis, heartburn, flatulence, acidity, dyspepsia, or bad stomach trouble, take this healing powder. It soothes your stomach at once, and strengthens it so that you are quickly relieved from the pains and distress you are suffering now. But be sure you get the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder—the powder that is used so widely in English hospitals. Look for the identifying signature, "ALEX. C. MACLEAN" on bottle and carton. At druggist, in powder or tablets (but never sold loose)—75c.—Distributors: Rigolais Agencies, Vancouver, B.C.

The complete equipment in the Royal City Hotel for handling Garden Peas is a most interesting operation. From the gardens to the shellers, then to the receivers and elevators, and on to the washers and sorters. Some people confuse Royal City "Super G" Peas with ordinary, large, sieve 6 peas, but "Super G" is a very special variety of its own—large, tender and well-flavored. Many people prefer them to smaller peas.

Golfers and Friends Entertained at Informal Dance at Empress

"Something doing all the time"—as the "barkers" used to cry in the old-time circus—seems to be the slogan of the entertainment committee of the Empress winter golf tournament. Again at the Empress Hotel yesterday evening the visiting golfers and their friends, as well as local residents, were entertained at an informal dance and a programme of floor turns in the ballroom.

The spectacular numbers included a Spanish tango gracefully danced by Eileen and Clifford Moore; Berna Waring, in an abbreviated costume of black velvet, gave a striking interpretation of a fan dance, with the aid of an enormous fan of black silk; little Yvonne Wille, attired as a darkie, gave an impersonation of Bill Robinson, the colored comedian and dancer, skilfully dancing an intricate stair tap and singing a solo; Kathleen Gregson, Dan Plater and Jack de Macedo contributed a sparkling adagio dance.

Attired in diaphanous white and silver, seven girls presented a charming "Midnight Ballet." Theina Shamoras being the graceful soloist, assisted by Frances Borde, Kathleen Gregson, Kathleen Mann, Isobel McAlpine, Davida Webb and Rene McLaughlin. All the dancers were pupils of Miss Florence Clough.

Under the direction of Wm. F. Tickle the augmented hotel orchestra played a scintillating programme of dance music from 8:30 till 11 o'clock, rounding out a delightfully informal evening.

Tomorrow evening the week's round of social doings will culminate with the grand cabaret supper. Premier Pattullo will formally present the prizes to the winners of the golf tournament.

Among the gay turns arranged for the delectation of the guests will be a "golf ballet" in which twenty-four slim maidens will present a new and exasperating game, while Mrs. Charles E. Wilson and a chorus of dancers will appear in a dramatic Chinese number.

ENGLISH BOOK ABLY REVIEWED

Miss Jessie Roberts Discusses "England Speaks" Before "Y" Reading Group

Holding it up as a mirror to social and economic problems of the world over, Miss Jessie Roberts gave an intensely interesting review of "England Speaks," by Philip Gibbs, before the reading group of the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Edwin Tomlin presided over the late evening.

Briefly, "England Speaks" is a symposium of interviews with people in all walks of life, from the humblest to the highest, the former, Miss Roberts thought, proving the most interesting because the interviewed persons felt no need to be guarded in what they said.

In his cross-section of English life, the noted author throws into high relief the many facets of social and economic change, showing their impact upon those whom they most deeply concern. In the first part, "The Gray Crowd," sketches and conversations with people who participated in the Jubilee celebrations last year reveal how England became articulated under the stress of a great nation-wide emotion.

In "These Less Gay" he touches upon the unemployed, the delinquents, and other victims of economic stress. One interesting interview with a London policeman working among these "down-and-outs" recorded her opinion that many of these people would be better off if they had not the education which it was to the use of the pick and shovel instead of the pen and typewriter. She also felt their need of discipline, and the need of some organization to take hold of the boys and give them a chance.

In "The Monstrous City," Sir Philip delves into the realm of politics, the stage, the radio, interviewing various celebrities connected with them and also touching upon the menace of war. Miss Roberts quoted from his interview with Sir George Falsch, the noted economist, with his gloomy prognostications of a world slipping into an abyss. "Rural England" was a brighter picture of bucolic life, in which the author interviews hikers, German as well as English, and obtains their views.

In conclusion, Miss Roberts commended the book to all thoughtful readers because of the way in which it must arouse a more sympathetic and intelligent attitude towards the many problems of the hour.

Weddings

ATKINSON-VASSALLO

A wedding of interest to British Columbia took place in Malta on January 20 at the Oratory at St. John's Pro-Cathedral, when Flying Officer Glen Atkinson, R.A.F., of the 30 Squadron of Bombers, son of Mr. William Atkinson of Chilliwack, former minister of agriculture for British Columbia, was united in marriage to Miss Maud Cecilia Vassallo, daughter of Captain Charles and Mrs. Vassallo. The Rev. Father: A. E. Farrugia Bugaja officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a close-fitting gown of oyster satin with a large cluster of orange blossoms joining the train to the dress. The tulle veil was held in place by delicately moulded wings of silver lame and crystal beads. The two bridesmaids, Miss Yvonne Vassallo and Miss Rita Micallef, wore dresses of white tulle and deeply flounced in white tulle. The headresses were of tulle with a halo of beaver. Flying Officer T. Moseley, R.A.F., acted as best man, and the witnesses were Professor L. C. Vassallo, and Chevalier R. de M. Smith.

The future residence of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Atkinson will be 87 Sds. Britannica, Valletta, Malta.

O'NEILL-NICHOLSON

A quiet wedding took place on Friday, February 7, at 2118 Prince Edward Street, Vancouver, Ethel May Nicholson, formerly Ethel May Walker, of Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Leo C. O'Neill of Winnipeg. Mrs. A. Walker attended her daughter, and Mr. John S. Jefferson acted as best man. Rev. Andrew Roddan officiated at the ceremony.

Only immediate friends and relatives attended the bridal supper, which was given following the ceremony.

SPINSTERS' BALL TICKETS ALL SOLD

Spinsters will be popular, despite all that the name connotes, for every available ticket for the Spinsters' Ball, which is to be held at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Tuesday evening, February 25, has been taken and there are positively none left, it is announced today.

But those who have been fortunate enough to obtain tickets are assured of a delightful evening, with Len Acres and his orchestra supplying the dance music and a spinsters' chorus as one of the novelties.

In this chorus, Betty O'Brien, Mrs. Alfred Hood and Mona and Nora Kelpin will represent the old-fashioned spinsters, while Eileen Regan, Helen Schwegers, Nan Eve and Mary Peden will take the part of the modern misses. This number is being directed by Miss Maureen Grute.

Shirley Temple and her sister will also appear, impersonated by two boys who are too shy to reveal their identity in advance.

The decorations for the dance are in charge of Miss Beryl Nelson.

JUNIOR MUSICAL'S HANDEL RECITAL

Seamen's Institute—At the February meeting of Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute held in the Institute yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Sayer referred to the night cable sent to the private secretary at Buckingham Palace expressing condolences, devotion and loyalty on behalf of the Institute, and members stood in reverent silence in tribute to the late King. The meeting was unusually well attended and Rev. F. W. Weaver and Mrs. Weaver were welcomed as new members.

Mr. Weaver, newly-appointed chaplain, spoke on the work of the Institute and the interest being taken in apprentice boys or cadets, visiting the port. The log showed seventeen ships had been visited, and registered; 41 the Seamen's Institute were 263 men and forty-seven apprentices. Hospital and Mrs. Finmore for St. Joseph's. Miss de Trafford's wool committee is at work knitting socks and jerseys for convalescent sailors or those in need. Some extra relief work during the cold weather was reported by Mrs. H. Day, secretary. The Institute expressed gratitude to the Navy League Chapter I.O.D.E. for the donation of the proceeds of their bridge party held this week. Mr. Weaver brought to the meeting a very acceptable donation from St. Barnabas Church which was received with appreciation. Mrs. Dolg was welcomed after her long sojourn abroad. Following the business meeting, tea was served by Mrs. Sayer and Mrs. Lloyd-Young.

St. Saviour's Girls—The regular meeting of St. Saviour's Girls' branch of the W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Hughes, 415 Raynor Avenue, with fourteen members present. Rev. E. M. Wille conducted the study period. The members decided to each give a cent a month toward the Extra-cent-a-day Fund and the evening ended with a reading of the forthcoming play.

"Gleaners' Meet"—The "Gleaners of the First United Church met recently at the home of Mrs. A. Chisholm, 1144 St. David Street. The meeting was opened by a devotional service led by the president, Miss Gladys Schroeder. This was followed by a brief business period which included the treasurer's report. Miss Gwen Lang then favored the group with a delightful solo. An outline of the work of Mrs. Jenni Dar, a Bible woman of Trinidad, was given by Miss Jean Munro. The guest-speaker for the evening was Mrs. Henry Billingsley, who gave a very interesting talk on "Africa." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Fairfield W.M.S.—Mrs. S. J. Jackson's Circle was in charge of the monthly meeting of Fairfield W.M.S. held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Furber, Linden Avenue. After the devotion, the guest-speaker, Miss Margaret Laurie, superintendent of the Oriental Home, described in simple but telling language the practical work of mission work as carried on at two of the "homes" with which she has been connected, one at Wahstao, Alberta, for non-Anglo-Saxon girls, and the other at Assiniboia was for English-speaking girls attending college. Both are under the direction of the United Church W.M.S. Mrs. Gerald Green, the president, was in charge of the meeting and twenty members, with three visitors, attended. Reports were received from the Presbyterial delegates. Mrs. W. Beaven gave a short talk on "Temperance." Mrs. Moon spoke for "Crusade" and Mrs. A. Dowell reported for Mission and Baby Bands. All joined in the closing prayer, and a social hour, during which tea was served, brought the afternoon to a close. A vote of thanks was accorded the hostess.

Centennial W.M.S.—Many members of this Centennial W.M.S. Auxiliary gathered at 2033 Orilla Street, Monday evening for the February meeting. Devotions were begun by repeating the watchword, after which Mrs. Sing led in prayer, and Mrs. A. H. Rogers brought a scripture message of comfort from Isaiah and New Testament passages. Routine business was followed by encouraging reports brought by the secretaries. A budget survey was made and the work of the year boldly faced. Excellent reports of the recent Presbyterial held in First Church, were given by the delegates, Miss Tranter and Mrs. Mitchell, for which they were thanked. Growing out of these reports there followed a discussion of the liquor question, and it was resolved to take a special offering at the March meeting to aid those fighting in the cause of temperance. To fan the flame of missionary zeal Mrs. Musgrave, missionary monthly secretary, brought a load of nearly thirty. Several active members were missed from the meeting and in closing many voices were heard in

Track Fever High On Eve of Santa Anita Handicap Classic

THE SPORTS MIRROR

GIVEN a break in the weather, a Spanish Thistle scout remarks, the local soccer league should finish its 1935-36 games early enough to start next season on schedule. The teams have been idle for the last few weeks owing to weather conditions.

Few features are more important in the development of athletic popularity, as far as spectators are concerned, than a competitor's ability to make the correct gestures.

When you watch a swimming gala or track meet, it's pleasing to the eye to see contestants wading among their opponents, shake hands and wish them luck. Nine times out of ten the well-wisher is probably hoping his rivals get cramps or finish well behind him, but the open hand and the lip-service wish make an agreeable impression.

In the professional wrestling ring, the right approach seems to be to walk out of the corner surlily and take a snap at an opponent's ear.

In basketball, nothing looks more stupid than the player who slams the ball away when a side-line throw-in is awarded against him. All games have their own little wrinkles and the gesture is a big factor in each.

It is interesting to watch former athletes, grown fat or young business men with increasing big windows, play their workout games in reducing gyms. Those who have been on top at nearly any sport take the exercise for the exercise and enjoy the sport. But those who have never started appear to take the games they enter in the recreational sphere of the pound-eliminating process as a matter of life and death.

Bob Kipphut, famous swimming coach at Yale, intends to have "a fish's eye view" of his pupils from now on.

Chairman of the United States Olympic swimming committee, Mr. Kipphut donned a diving helmet and descended to the bottom of the Yale swimming pool, and from there looked up at his squad as it engaged in a workout.

Commenting on his trip "down under," he said: "It's the only way to get a true picture and to study accurately the respective techniques and actual technique, and it's good that I'm going to continue to do it for the rest of the season."

"In addition to getting the best possible view of a swimmer's balance, stroke and technique from the bottom-side-up point," he added, "another advantage is the elimination of the refraction, waves and bubbles which confuse the view of the subject when watching it from above the surface."

Following conferences and correspondence between the respective rules of golf committees, Great Britain and the United States have decided against the abolition of the stytle.

This development in a "war" which has been waged for many years has been disclosed by the United States Golf Association, in the annual report of the rules of golf committee.

"For the better part of two years," it is stated, "the executive committee and the rules of golf committee have given the most careful and constant consideration to the proposal that the stytle be abolished as a part of match-play competition."

"Until the meeting of the U.S.A. executive committee, held in January, the views of the members have been about evenly divided. At that meeting, by a vote of eight to five, it was decided that no change in the rules be made."

The statement adds that the action was preceded by conferences with the Royal and Ancient Golf Club (R.A.C.) ruling body of the game in Great Britain, and that recently a similar decision against any change was made by the St. Andrews rules of golf committee.

For years golfers all over the world have been divided on the question of the stytle. The abolitionists contend that, when a player has reached the putting green, it is unfair if the position of his opponent's ball prevents him from having a clear line to the hole.

Supporters of the stytle argue that it is an integral part of the game, a traditional hazard which is a test of the golfer's skill.

Fourteen Equine Bluebloods Will Start Tomorrow

Record Crowd Expected to Watch "Pot of Gold" Feature

DISCOVERY STILL FAVORED TO WIN

Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—Handicap day at Santa Anita is just one sleepless night away, with fourteen bluebloods of the turf expected to race for the $112,500 pot of gold.

Racing Secretary Webb Everett looked over the eligible list today and predicted the following candidates would answer the call.

Discovery, Top Row, Time Supply, Whopper, Rosemont, Azucar, Tick On, Singing Wood, Thursday, Riskulus, Aerial Cross, Pompey's Pillar, He Did and Howard.

Final announcement of the starters will be made later today.

Pre-race hysteria gathered momentum as the great day neared, what with incoming hundreds finding parking space as scarce as a sure thing on the race, and California's own horse loving Gentry gradually reaching the latter stage trying to outguess the horses.

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

Los Angeles turf officials went ahead with plans to handle a record crowd, ignoring unfavorable weather forecasts on the grounds that after a week of rain the idea was no novelty and forecasts couldn't scare anyone away.

They expect 30,000 or more, they hope it will be 60,000 or more, and will be overestimated if it is 70,000 or more. So will the 70,000 if it starts to drizzle just about the time they find they have a ticket on the wrong horse.

Gates to the big Arcadia track, twenty miles from the hazy Sierra Madre Mountains, open at 9 a.m. The handicap classic is slated to be run between 4 and 4:40 p.m.

Up to yesterday the experts had concluded that Discovery was a certain winner. The only point of controversy hinged on how far in front Alfred G. Vanderbilt's great champion would finish to cap the $100,000 prize and its added money.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

Top Row, A. A. Baroni's mighty Little Napoleon and Mrs. F. A. Carreau's Time Supply were conceded to be dangerous. But Discovery—rain, shine or mud—looked the best. Then conflicting reports filtered in.

Whopper, Hal Price Headley's easy-going colt, which carries a twenty-pound weight advantage over Discovery in the big handicap, is as much at home in the mud as any other candidate.

It also is said that Singing Wood, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Futurity champion, might serenade Discovery. Top Row and the rest of the pack with the drum-beat of his hoofs. He's been giving weight all year, but with 100 pounds for the handicap, the order is changed.

Ariel Cross is a Canadian hopeful. He runs for Harry Hatch.

TO BE BROADCAST

The event will be broadcast over a coast-to-coast hookup of the National Broadcasting Company, Clem McCarthy, veteran track authority, and Joe Hernandez, Santa Anita race caller, will handle the event on the air with Kenneth Carpenter. The broadcast will come over KGO, KJR and other Pacific Coast blue network stations.

Margaret Taylor Retains Badminton Crown in Kelowna Finals

Kelowna, B.C., Feb. 21.—Jean Partington of Vancouver, was the only Coast player to hold a Central British Columbia badminton championship as the curtain rang down yesterday evening after finals play had been completed.

Vess O'Shea of Vancouver, bowed out of the women's singles final to Margaret Taylor of Kelowna, Dominion and British Columbia champion, in two fast games, 11-3, 11-2. And later, teamed with Jean Partington, went down in the final of the women's doubles to Margaret Taylor and Jocelyn Pease of Kelowna, 15-2, 15-6.

The place gained by Jean Partington and shared with N. Solly of Sumnerland, when the two combined to knock out Margaret Taylor and Saunders of Kelowna, 15-6, 15-9, in the final of the mixed doubles.

H. Webb of Kelowna, won the men's singles crown, beating Solly of Sumnerland, in the final after a hard fight, 4-15, 17-16, 15-6. Solly, however, teamed with Fudge also of Sumnerland, for victory in the men's doubles event, defeating Webb and Saunders of Kelowna, 2-15, 15-7, 15-12.

Mushers Ready For Big Race

Fifteen Entries For Dog Derby Scheduled in Idaho Tomorrow

Associated Press
Ashton, Idaho, Feb. 21.—Some fifteen dog teams, trained for the twenty-four-mile grind by weeks of mushing through deep snow and over beaten trails, were ready today for the twentieth annual running of the American Dog Derby Saturday afternoon.

The prize for the winner is $400 and a leg on the new silver loving cup. Don Cordingley, the champion who will defend his title Saturday, took final possession of the old cup a year ago by winning his third race.

Three hundred dollars additional will be distributed among other finishers. Beginning at 1:15 p.m., the yipping, whining strings of five dogs each will start over the three laps of the track at intervals of one minute.

The order of starters is determined in a draw shortly before the race. The rules require that each entrant finish with all five of his dogs. Should one or more of them become incapacitated, they can be cut out of the string and hauled for the rest of the way on the sled if desired.

STRONG CHALLENGERS

Cordingley is expected to be given stiff competition this year from at least two directions. Celey Baum, his rival for race honors, has a finely trained team of Irish setters as his entry. Lloyd Van Sickle, driving a string entered by the Porcupine CCC Camp, will probably have the largest rooting section of any contestant in the 250 Kentuckians who comprise the camp.

Other drivers are veterans from Wyoming, Montana and southeastern Idaho points, including Thula Geelan woman musher from McCall, Idaho.

OLD UMPIRE DIES

Toronto, Feb. 21 (Canadian Press).—Jim Sharkey, one-time baseball umpire in the International League, is dead at his home. A stroke claimed

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

On Friday, December 13, last year, Arthur D. West, climbed thirteen steps to the top of the scaffold at San Quentin Penitentiary in California to pay with his life for a murder that he had committed. Just thirteen minutes after the trap was sprung, West was declared dead.

The strange sequence of thirteens and Fridays that ran through his crime and conviction began on a Friday, October 1934, when West killed a fellow soldier. A jury found him guilty of first degree murder—returning the verdict on Friday. A week later, on Friday, he was sentenced to die—the execution was ordered to take place on the third Friday in April, 1935. West's attorney appealed, but on Friday, September 27, the Supreme Court of the State denied the appeal. West was rescheduled to hang on Friday, December 13. The sentence was carried out.

Strange as it seems, not all animals have red blood. A great many lower forms of animal life have colorless blood, and others have blood of various colors. The blood of many butterflies is yellow, and that of some marine worms is greenish. Lack of hemoglobin in the blood of lower animals accounts for its colorlessness, and the presence of other substances in its place accounts for the variety of blood colors that can be found among invertebrate animals.

The larch tree in the above drawing grew normally in an upright position until April, 1931, when a windstorm uprooted it and blew it over. The falling tree crashed against the roof of a store and was held in that position. Since then the tree, strong and firmly rooted, has continued to grow in an almost horizontal position.

Olympics Down Stars to Increase Margin in International League

Detroit, Feb. 21.—Detroit Olympics increased their lead in the International Hockey League's western section to eleven points yesterday by beating Syracuse Stars, eastern division pace-setters, 3 to 1.

Mud Brunet, Gene Carrigan and Bill Williams were the Olympics marksmen. Eddie Burke saved the stars from a shutout.

Boston, Feb. 21.—Boston Cubs climbed out of the Canadian-American hockey league cellar yesterday evening by defeating the Springfield Indians 5 to 4 in a bruising game. More than 7,000 women were in the crowd of 11,000. It was "ladies' night."

Roger Jenkins paced the Cubs with two goals, the others being credited to Bob Bauer, Ray Gettiffe and "Whiffer" Dumart. Mud Wilson scored twice for the losers. Harry Gray and Doug Brennan obtaining one each.

Oklahoma City, Feb. 21.—Tulsa rallied yesterday to defeat Oklahoma 4 to 3 in an American Hockey Association game. Tulsa's goals were made by Wakeford, Radley, Desjardins and Marsch. Burns counted twice and Ingram once for Oklahoma City.

Kansas City, Feb. 21.—Wichita, American Hockey Association cellar occupants yesterday evening, extended their winning streak to three games by defeating Kansas City 2 to 1 in two overtime periods. McLeod and Galtbraith counted for Wichita, Mulvihill for Kansas City.

BLACKS TAKE HOOP FIXTURE

Rally After Slow Start to Defeat Mount View Boys 48 to 20

Victoria High School Blacks trimmed the Mount View High School boys' basketball quintette 48 to 20 in a fixture in the Feden Cup series yesterday in the High School gymnasium.

J. Sparks of Mount View opened the scoring, and for a while it looked as though the highly confident Blacks were going to their first defeat at the hands of the Mount View cagers, but they got going in the middle of the first half and the rest of the game was a walk away for the Blacks.

"Hank" Rowe was the outstanding player on the Blacks and led the scoring with fourteen points. Jerry Sparks led Mount View with ten points.

Bob Macmurchie and Eddie Percy handled the game.

The teams and scores follow:
Blacks—H. Rowe 14, B. Berry, B. Wallis 10, W. Friker 2, F. Smart 12, L. Noakes 4, N. Parfitt 2, H. Chan 4, Mount View High School—J. Sparks 10, L. Treloar 2, G. Duncan 2, J. Frenckergast 2, J. Kennedy and V. Dale 4.

LEATHERS TO MEET M'LAIN

Popular Heavyweights to Battle in Main Event on Mat Show Tomorrow Night

Mayes McLain, former Iowa grid star, who last week fought to a draw with "Wee Willie" Davis, is billed to clash with Sam "Legs" Leathers, former cow puncher from Dallas, Texas, in the feature attraction on the three-hour program to be staged tomorrow evening by promoter Fred Richardson in the Tillamook gym.

The opening tussle will commence at 8:45 o'clock.

Both lads have appeared here before and are popular with the ring fans. This, however, will be the first time they have appeared together and they should produce plenty of good, fast and clean wrestling as they fight it out in their scheduled eight-minute round encounter.

PORTLANDER TO MAKE DEBUT

Les Grimes, game young grappler from Portland, will be making his debut in the local squared circle and is billed to contend with Dr. Nap DeVora of Providence, R.I. They will exchange grips in the semi-windup tilt, which is slated to be over the route of five eight-minute rounds.

Grimes has built a neat reputation as a capable performer in any wrestling match and should make it quite interesting for the Rhode Island matman, who has appeared here on a number of previous occasions.

A fine preliminary has been slated and will bring together Bing Quon, clever local Chinese bone-bender, and Bill Stein, both former members of the Mohnt Stephen Athletic Club. They will fight in a scheduled four five-minute round bout.

First United Win Basketball Game

First United scored a ten-point victory over Jones' Boys yesterday evening when they whipped the latter 39 to 29 at the Memorial Hall in a scheduled Royal Juvenile Basketball League fixture. The churchmen were away out in front from the start and were never headed, leading by an 18 to 11 score at half time.

Local Runners to Go to New Westminster March 21 For Indoor Meet With College of Puget Sound and Terminal City Squads

Out to improve their sensational showing at New Westminster last year the local Flying "Y" track stars will file down their spikes for the biggest provincial indoor meet of the season when they again invade the Royal City to compete against College of Puget Sound, University of British Columbia and the Vancouver Athletic Club on March 21.

Archie McKinnon's runners have one good victory under their belts as the result of their clash with the invading University of British Columbia track and field men in the annual indoor Kiwanis meet at the Armories last month.

Headed by Addison, local Empire Games man, who is figured a cinch for the quarter mile, the Y.M.C.A. trackmen should place well up in the meet. Last year the local relay team, with Addison running anchor, captured the most outstanding event of the evening, the mile relay, from College of Puget Sound by a foot. This event should provide plenty of excitement this time with the "Y" men out to repeat the performance and the Puget Sounders bent on putting their anchor man across the finish line first in that final 440 yards of the relay.

BIGGER TEAM

If financial arrangements are made satisfactorily Coach McKinnon will take across a larger team at the invitation of the New Westminster officials.

University of British Columbia will probably have Howie McPhee as first string sprinter.

The Vancouver Athletic Club looks good for places in the field events with Bob Dixon first in the line-up. Dixon is also an Empire Games man.

LOCAL HOPES

Those definitely decided upon by McKinnon to make up the local aggregation include in addition to Joe Addison, Chuck Cunningham, Bill Dale, Paul "Twinkles" Rowe, Owen Bentley, Arlie "Crucifer" and Alf Chapman. Chapman pulled off a neat surprise in the last Kiwanis meet in winning the hurdle event from Addison and McPhee and will bank on a place in this event in the New Westminster meet. Philippen is a reliable man in the relay to bolster other "Y" flashes including Rowe and Bentley.

The local squad, with Dale and Cunningham, pretty consistent for places in any distance events, are sure fire for points in the mile and half mile.

If McKinnon is able to take more than a skeleton team the additions will come from his handy rear guard youngsters who have been steadily budding along in the wake of the faster men.

CHESS TOURNEY PLAY TONIGHT

The first game of the semi-final round of the city chess tournament will take place this evening in the City Chess Club headquarters, 1118 Langley Street, at 8 o'clock.

This evening's match will bring together L. Partington, defending champion, and E. A. Tomlinson, evening K. S. Patrick will contend with F. Stratholtd.

The winners of these two engagements will battle next Friday and Saturday evening in a two-out-of-three-game series for the championship. The winner will take possession of the Tourist Trade Development Association trophy.

Plenty of good competition is expected to ensue when these finalists meet.

Hooley Smith Leads Maroons To Win Over Detroit Team

Veteran Montreal Forward Stars As Team Climbs Ahead

Leads Down Canadians 2 to 1 in Hard-fought Battle

RANGERS AND HAWKS IN TIE

Maroons 6, Detroit 2.
Toronto 2, Chicago 1.
Rangers 1, Chicago 1.

Canadian Press
Reginald (Hooley) Smith, who has been growing old in National Hockey League service so quietly he fails to be placed on most of the oldest lists, stormed the gates of championship scorers today. The "Happy Hooley" of Montreal Maroons seemed to have overcome the ravages of twelve big-league seasons.

In command of Montreal's drive down the Canadian section stretch, Hooley padded his scoring account this week with nine points in two games and suddenly became a menacing factor in the individual race for Charlie Conacher's scoring title.

When Maroons ran out a 6 to 3 win yesterday evening over Detroit Red Wings, American section leader, the thirty-two-year-old Hooley collected one goal and three assists to establish himself five points behind the league-leading Sweeney Schriner of New York Americans. He earned five points Tuesday night when Maroons held Detroit to an 8 to 6 tie at New York.

Hooley's record shows seventeen goals and fifteen assists. Back in 1930 when he pivoted the famous "S" line, involving Babe Siebert and Nels Stewart, Hooley scored twenty-one times and set his high mark. It's about to be broken.

The result left Maroons a full game ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs who upset a stubborn Montreal Canadian team 2 to 1 in Toronto. Andy Blair fired the winning shot in a close-checking contest at 11:29 in the third period, skating from end to end before driving a sharp angle drive past Wilf Cude. Bill Thomas scored the first Toronto goal and Bill Miller squared matters.

Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers played a 1 to 1 tie at New York, the Hawks pulling up within three points of Detroit in the standing and Rangers running into third place, a game ahead of Boston.

Maroon's Chicago goal was scored by Butch Keeling tied the count. Detroit's Smith, Young, McDonald, Pettenger, Howe, K. Kilrea, Goodfellow, Barry, W. Kilrea, Sorrell, Starr, Kelly, Bowman, G. Tacoma Light Heavy Drops Opponent in Fifty-eight Seconds

Associated Press
St. Paul, Feb. 21.—Fred Lenhart, Tacoma, knocked out Oscar Rankin, Los Angeles, in fifty-eight seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout here yesterday evening. Lenhart weighed 170 and Rankin 164.

Lenhart, fighting from a south-paw stance, caught Rankin with a terrific left hook in the midsection, flooring him for the full count.

The Tacoma light heavyweight moved out of his corner at the going with a right-hand stance. They exchanged a brief flurry of blows. Then Lenhart set up his left and let it go as Rankin moved in with a right-handed lead.

Dominoes In Great Shape For Hoop Game Tomorrow

Victoria's Dominoes, nearing a keen edge in training as they prepare for the provincial play-offs next month, will step on to the floor for what should prove one of the keenest duels of their exhibition season at Victoria High School gym tomorrow evening. They will be meeting in a rubber fixture an exceptionally smart Seattle Demolay outfit, led by Roy Williamson, high scoring guard who is rated one of the smoothest performers in the Sound City. Williamson, joining the Giff Top after they had played three games, finished second in the Community League scoring lists. In addition to being a clever sharpshooter he is particularly good as a defender.

In the preliminary game West Saanich Mercantiles will wind up their home-and-home Lower Island men's Senior B final against Lady Smith. The teams are scheduled to clash up-Island this evening and will return for the second game here to open the programme at the High School gym tomorrow.

The Dominoes and the Demolay have each gained a victory this year, the winning team taking the fixture by a single point in each case. Dave Nicol expects his boys to take the third game.

Players Named For Ping-pong Feature

Ray Pearson, Schoolboy Star, Among Seattle Players; Girls Include Champions of Three States; Local Teams Chosen

Five men and eight girls will make up the Seattle table tennis team which will play Victoria in an international intercity match at the Crystal Gardens tomorrow evening.

Leading the invaders is Ray Pearson, sensational schoolboy star who won the Washington State championship this year. The other men players include L. Attwood, ranked among the first six in Seattle; Rudy Uraic, W. Fossas, veterans' champion of Washington State, and Les Smith.

Among the girls are three champions: Muriel Hoffman, who won the Washington State title this year; Pauline Fossas, who is champion of California, and Paula Lindblad, who is champion of Oregon. The other players include Peggy O'Neil, Miss L. Smythe, beating the Victoria team, Mrs. Lee Smith and Mrs. W. Fossas.

LOCAL TEAM
The men's team which will represent Victoria was chosen after a round robin play in the table tennis club yesterday evening. Wilfred Broome, Cave, and the city's main threat, and others on the squad include Vic Tully, Bill Whittingham, Lionel Cox and Eric Cox.

Against the stellar opposition of the girls from Seattle, Victoria will pit Mrs. Hocking, Mrs. Rigby, Mildred Phillips, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Butcher. It is understood that the women's match will only be between six players on each team.

Following the team matches, there will probably be exhibition games. Through there is not much hope of a competition when they meet at Bullen Park in a Second Division encounter, Davy Swan will handle the whistle. Victoria City will battle it out with Saanich Thistles at Upper Beacon Hill Park, also in a Second Division tussle, with J. C. Dowds blowing the whistle.

Line-ups follow:
Saanich Thistles, First Division—Chalmers, Easler, Harper, Leggett, Williams, Crowe, Speller, Murray, Campbell, McLean, Glancy, Murray, Gent, Gibson and Stofor.

Saanich Thistles, Second Division—Leak, Armitage, Hetherington, Hayward, Geoghegan, T. Noble, Stokes, Lewis, Kennedy, D. Noble, Nicholas, Musgrave, Parker, English and Williams.

COMMISSIONER GIVEN PRAISE
Sidney R. Bowden, for fourteen years a member of the Equilateral Police Commission, received glowing praise last night from Rev. Alexander Lockie, speaking at the first meeting of the 1936 commission.

The absence of Mr. Bowden from the commission this year was a serious loss to the municipality, said Rev. Lockie. He thoroughly understood police problems of the municipality, and was particularly energetic and efficient in carrying out his duties, he added.

The police department's estimate will not be considered by the commission at its next meeting, March 19. The figures are expected to be roughly the same as last year's.

Complaints received and attended to during the month of January had totaled 110, said Chief of Police H. W. V. Peckhold in his report. There had been four police court cases with fines totaling $20. There had been no fires.

The Saanich Liberal Association annual dance will be held on Wednesday, March 4, in the Foresters' Hall in Victoria. CITRUS FRUIT
MARKET RISES

Prices moved up and down, on wholesale row today.

Oranges, which had been declining since the beginning of the year, bounded back 10 to 15 cents a case.

Small sizes in lemons advanced sharply, and wholesalers reported prices up 50 cents a case, which will mean a rise of 1 cent a dozen in retail stores.

The cold weather had an opposite effect on lemons, as growers are concerned. People are not keen about salads when the mercury is below the freezing mark, so the price of cucumbers dropped 50 cents a dozen today.

The price of Japanese oranges has been reduced 10 cents a bundle, or 3 cents a box, due to distributors desire to clean up their stocks.

Local turnips are growing scarce partly on account of damage due to frost and partly because of the crop being cleaned up. Wholesalers are importing rutabagas from Yakima but their price is high.

There is only a small amount of spinach on the market and retailers are forced to sell it at two pounds for 25 cents.

Daily shipments of California cauliflower are arriving on the local market.

Will not be a day of rest for workers on wholesale row as a large shipment consisting of three carloads of fruit and vegetables is due to arrive from California.

COAL OUTPUT
SHOWS DROP

Production of coal by B.C. collieries in January was 10 per cent lower than in the corresponding month of 1935, according to Department of Mines figures.

Total output for the province was 118,851 tons, compared with 127,818 tons last year.

On Vancouver Island the production was down from 67,207 tons to 58,953 tons. Most of the drop was caused by the shutdown at No. 5 Wellington Mine, although the reserve mine of Western Fuel was producing this year.

Dave Nicol and G. E. MacDonald Announce Candidature For Directorate

Dave Nicol and G. E. MacDonald have announced their candidature for the directorate of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, at the annual meeting tonight, it was learned today.

Mr. Nicol, who has been prominent in business and sporting circles here for many years, and is now manager of the famous Victoria Dominions, holders of the Dominion basketball championship, has been a member of the association for several years.

Mr. MacDonald is manager of the Jameson Electric Company and former president of the Credit Granters' Association.

The candidacy of Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie for the presidency of the association will receive the hearty support of Mr. Nicol, who believes that the exhibition should not "just be a curtain raiser for the horse races."

The development of the Willow Park as a sports centre is advocated by Mr. Nicol, who hopes that there should be some return for the city's large investment in the exhibition grounds.

"GOVERNMENT LIQUOR ACT" (Section 26)

Notice is hereby given that on the 11th day of March next, the undersigned The British Public Schools Club, intends to apply to the Liquor Control Board for a Club License in respect of the premises situated at 1218 Langley Street, Victoria, B.C., land described as Lot 1223 and 1224, Victoria City, Victoria Land Registration District, in the Province of British Columbia, to entitle each member of the said Club to keep on the premises a reasonable quantity of liquor for personal consumption on the premises in accordance with the provisions of the "Government Liquor Act", the regulations promulgated thereunder.

OPERA STAR AT DOMINION

Gladys Swarthout Sings Leading Role in "Rose of the Rancho"

The screen has had Lawrence Tibbett, Lily Pons, Everett Marshall, Mary Ellis and Mino Martini as recruits from the Metropolitan Opera, and now comes the glorious voice of Gladys Swarthout, who may be seen and heard in Paramount's "Rose of the Rancho" which opens today at the Dominion Theatre.

John Boles is co-starred with Miss Swarthout in her motion picture debut and this, too, makes for a happy combination. Boles, with his rugged, yet suave, handsomeness, and his own claim to distinction as a singer, is the perfect match for Miss Swarthout. Even in the event screen plots did not always, or usually, always work out for the best, in the end, with hero and heroine living happily from here on out, you would know in this picture that Swarthout and Boles belong to each other.

"Rose of the Rancho" is the screen's musical version of a play first seen on Broadway some twenty-four years ago. The story dates back to the 1850's of Monterey, California's first state capital and scene of a series of disorders almost unprecedented in our pioneer history.

Also being shown, as the second feature, is Anne Shirley in "Chatter-box," in which Phillips Holmes is also starred.

BOY SINGERS GIVEN PRAISE

Famous Romilly Choir From Wales Will Sing Twice in Victoria To-morrow

A choir of twelve boys grouped together in a concerted effort is capable of producing the best results. The Romilly Boy Singers who will appear in a return engagement tomorrow in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, has been selected from the famous Romilly School, in South Wales, which for over thirty years has earned a name in the music world of the United Kingdom, which is quite phenomenal. In addition to visiting practically every town and city in Great Britain, they have undertaken concert tours in France and Belgium, and are now at the western end of their Canadian tour, before entering the larger cities of the United States.

Each member of the ensemble is a gold medalist. They sang before the late King and Queen Mary; after which performance, Sir Henry Coward commented: "They are as near perfection as they could possibly be."

A special matinee performance will be given in the afternoon for students and teachers, as well as the general public.

John Goss and his London Singers will appear in Victoria at the Empire Theatre on Monday evening, March 2, under the local management of Violet Wilson.

Mr. Goss is well known to Victoria music lovers, having appeared here several times. He was in Victoria a few months ago on his arrival from Japan, where he spends his summer vacations. Mrs. Goss is attached to the staff of the British Embassy in Tokyo.

Musical West of San Francisco recently said of John Goss and his London Singers: "Owing to the variety of songs they manage to include in their programmes, their concerts attract a wide class of music lovers. Their leader, John Goss, chooses songs that voice, however differently, the very stuff of life—the more tender and romantic songs from the classic temperature, old English songs, German lieder, simple folk songs, simply sung—one of their specialties—shanties that have in to the more delectable programme like a brisk salt breeze."

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Although it has several dramatic moments, "Vagabond Lady," the Hal Roach-M-G-M feature comedy now playing at the Playhouse Theatre is in reality a comedy. For despite the seriousness of many situations in which the various players are involved as the story unfolds, delightful humor is threaded throughout the production which was so deftly directed by Sam Taylor. Featured in a large and imposing cast are Robert Young, Evelyn Venable, Bertie Churchill, Reginald Denny, Frank Craven and others.

Whereas it is provided by the "Health Act" that the Provincial Board of Health may issue regulations for preventing or mitigating infectious or contagious diseases:

And whereas, as syphilis and certain parasitic skin-diseases may be propagated by the instruments and apparatus of barbers, the said Board deem it wise to issue certain regulations respecting all and singular on the premises:

It is therefore provided as follows:

1. No barber shop, barber school or college shall be used as a living, dining, or sleeping apartment. No shop shall be operated in any store or restaurant, except the sale of tobacco, newspapers, and candy or original packages, and shining are permissible in conjunction with a pool or billiard room, provided that such shop is partitioned off by means of a solid wood, or other part glass partition from floor to ceiling.

2. Floors, walls, furniture and fixtures of barber shops, barber schools or colleges shall at all times be kept clean and all receptacles shall hold not less than five gallons and shall be connected directly with a water main, and where Municipal water supply and sewage disposal are available, connection must be made with the Municipal water system to the basin, and from the basin to the sewerage system.

3. If Municipal water supply or sewage disposal is not available, any privy or cesspool maintained for the use of the proprietor or employee must be of a type which is satisfactory from a sanitary standpoint.

4. Shaving-soap shall be used only in powder, paste or liquid form.

5. A separate and clean towel shall be used for each customer. Towels once used must be laundered before being used again.

6. All razors, scissors, combs or other instruments in general use shall be sterilized by immersion in boiling water before each use.

7. Hairbrushes in general use shall, at intervals of not less than twenty-four hours, be immersed in a strong solution of lysol or carbolic solution, and afterwards rinsed in clear water and dried with a towel by hand.

8. Customers in common use shall be subjected to the same treatment of the head and face as the hair.

9. Powder shall only be applied by a blow or on an absorbent cloth or towel, such cotton or towel shall be used for one customer only.

10. Before passing from one customer to another the barber shall wash the hands, using soap, preferably carbolic, and a nail-brush.

11. The use of the alum stick, frequently used in the hair, shall be discontinued, and replaced by calamine alum, a powder which can be applied on cotton wool, which shall be thrown away immediately afterwards.

12. The use in common of the same vaseline pot in shampoos, vaseline shall only be used from a squeeze tube.

13. Sponges shall not be used.

14. Razor-strops shall only be used for razors which have previously been disinfected.

15. The hair-cutting wrapper, so commonly used in barber shops, shall be placed only around the shoulders of customers and fastened with a safety-pin or other device at the back, and clean towels shall be used about the neck to prevent hair falling down.

16. All barbers, apprentices or students, shall wear a coat of a washable white material.

17. Spitting on the floor shall not be allowed.

18. All bath-tubs, after use, shall be thoroughly scrubbed with hot water and soap-powder in such a manner as to leave the tub free from scum or other evidence of dirt, and then thoroughly wiped out with a clean towel.

19. No person suffering from any skin or infectious disease shall be employed in any capacity in or about any barber shop, barber school, or college, or bath-house. No barber, apprentice or student shall serve a person afflicted with any contagious or infectious disease.

20. The entire interior of every barber shop, barber school or college, bath-house must be properly ventilated and maintained in a scrupulously clean and sanitary manner at all times.

21. Any barber shop, barber school, barber college or bath-house operated under conditions which in the opinion of a Health Officer under the "Health Act" are prejudicial to the public health or safety may be closed by a Health Officer. Provincial or other authorized Inspector.

22. A printed copy of these regulations shall be conspicuously displayed in every barber shop, barber school or college in the Province.

HAROLD LLOYD TO STAR HERE

Harold Lloyd's new Paramount farce, "The Milky Way," will open at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

Some time during his life every man dreams of doing the wild things that Lloyd does in this comedy. Every woman, too, has hoped that the man of her choice would prove a hero in a crisis when a bully, clever with his dukes, starts out to make the object of her affections the object of his objections.

Lloyd is seen as a humorless, shy, ineffectual boob of a milkman whose only aim in life is to deliver more milk bottles to more customers. When a drunken fight champion takes a swing at the milkman, an adept at ducking, and knocks himself out (how it happens is the funniest thing that has been seen in many a moon), "the milk-bottle boy" takes the cream of the victory and is launched as a contender for the middleweight championship.

What happens when an incognito orphan ingratiates himself into the affections of a man who considers orphans his jinx supplies the motivation for "The Unwelcome Stranger," the Columbia comedy-drama which is now at the Columbia Theatre.

Jackie Searle, talented boy player, is cast as the orphan, with stalwart Jack Holt starred as the superstitious owner of a stock farm.

Phil Rosen directed from a screen play prepared by Crane Wilbur based on an original story by William Jacobs.

As Lady Beth floated down toward the crater, the tribesmen fell on their knees. And when they recognized the outlines of a human form beneath the great white, cloud-like thing, Niarcho raised his hands in supplication, then fell into an epileptic fit.

The cries of the Baahies, a mingling of terror and ecstasy, rose to a high pitch as the girl came to earth. Quickly she disengaged the harness of her parachute and stood staring at them. The tribe numbered perhaps 500, of whom forty lay writhing on the ground.

Lady Beth was astounded. In the heart of Africa, she had landed amidst a settlement of white people. Naturally she was unfamiliar with that strange bypath of history which these people had trod since the first Niarchous had fled Alexander's host in Babylon 2,500 years ago.

What New Problems Does Girl Have to Face

Says the Older Ones Are Given New Twists

A GROUP OF HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS asks me what new problems the modern girl has to face and how they differ from those that confronted her mother.

I think about the only new problem that the modern girl has to wrestle with is how to make her own living. Mother and grandmother didn't have to bother their pretty heads about that, because in their time it was the custom for the males of the family to support the females. As long as they hung upon the parent's "bosom," fathers and brothers supported them with nutriment and raiment.

But nowadays, as soon as Angelina gets through school, father and brother wash their hands of her and she has to hustle out and earn her own board and keep. Hence the problem of deciding on what she wants to do in the way of work, and what she has an aptitude for doing is most likely to make a success of, is the first one with which she has to grapple.

Moreover, it is rendered more difficult of solution by the fact that she doesn't expect to follow any career outside of domesticity for long. Her real lifework is matrimony, so she feels that there is small use in putting in much time or effort in learning even the rudiments of a profession that she regards as nothing but a bridge of sighs that reaches from the classroom to the altar.

As for the other problems that confront the girl of today, they are just about the same as those that perplexed the girls of yesterday and the day before that. The only difference is it is a little harder to guess the answers.

Every woman's initial problem from Mother Eve down to the youngest flapper, for instance, has always been how to please men, because on her making a hit with the lords of creation depended her prosperity, her ease and her emoluments in life. It has always been so. It is still so. But grandpa wasn't as hypocritical as the modern young man. All that grandpa had to do to flag down grandpa was to be reasonably easy on the eyes and possess a few amateurish accomplishments. But to attract grandpa's notice a girl has to be Miss America and as versatile as a vaudeville team.

The next problem that every girl has had to try to solve from time immemorial is how to get a husband. This has been no easy thing to do in a world in which men have made the rules that governed the love game, and decreed that for a woman to pop the question is just simply one of the things that isn't done. Like trumping your partner's ace.

Strangely enough, although women have fought for all their rights until they got them, they have never succeeded in getting this taboo about picking out their mates lifted. So they still have to trust largely to luck that somehow they will be able to put the "come hither" spell on the men they desire and upon whom they have set their affections. How to do this is still a crossword puzzle that every woman has always had to work out for herself, but it wasn't so difficult in the past as it is in the present.

For in the good old days men were more matrimonially minded than they are now. Bachelor apartments and valet service had not been invented and men were virtually forced into matrimony to get home comforts and keep buttons on their shirts. And old bachelors were looked on askance, instead of being regarded as now as almost superhuman examples of cleverness in having evaded the snares that were set for their feet.

Then the problem of how to keep a husband after you get him is one that is greatly complicated by modern life. In the good old days when people married for keeps, instead of for experiment, grandmothers could sit down and take things easy after she pulled off her wedding veil. "She was settled," as the quaint phrase went, for life, and she didn't have to bother about keeping her figure or her looks or a peppy line of attractions.

But when granddaughter marries she is in for a lifetime of worrying over the problem of how to keep young and beautiful and glamorous, and wear pink chiffon negligees while she is doing the cooking and washing and baby-tending on a pinch-penny income.

In reality, there aren't many new problems in a girl's life. They are the old ones with a new twist, but they are difficult enough to solve to keep her guessing all her life.

Uncle Wiggily in a BIG NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING Band

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Mr. Twiggly, the fat pig gentleman, stopped at Uncle Wiggily's bungalow one afternoon. Mr. Longears was out in front looking at the sky to see if it would snow.

"Hello, Wiggly," greeted the pig gentleman.

"Hello, Twiggly," said Uncle Wiggily.

"I heard there was to be a meeting in the school tonight, Wiggly."

"What? It's about the band, isn't it?"

"We're setting up a band," said the pig gentleman. "A band to play music, you know."

"Of course I know," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "What makes you think I don't?"

"Well, I thought perhaps you might think it was a band on your hat, or something like that," grinned the fat pig.

"That's what my wife said when I told her we were going to start a band. She said the band on my hat was good enough for her."

"He, ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Your wife is funny, isn't she?"

"Sort of," grinned the pig. "But what about it? Do you want to be in the band?"

SHOWS INTEREST

"What do you want us to play, a fiddle or a trumpet or the big horn that goes umpty umpty?"

"I don't know yet," said the pig. "We won't know what instruments we are to play until after the meeting. Mr. Stubby said he was going to put them all in a hat and draw them out."

"What?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Do you mean Stubby is going to pull a fiddle and a trumpet and a horn that goes umpty umpty out of a hat?"

"Oh, no!" laughed the pig. "I mean Stubby will put the names of the different band pieces in a hat. We'll take turns pulling out the names. If you pull out the name of a trumpet, you'll play that. If you pull out the name of the umpty umpty horn, I'll play that in the band. And I hope I do, for I like the umpty umpty horn."

"I'd rather play the trumpet," said Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I'll be at the meeting and we'll see what happens."

"The meeting to get up a Woodland Animal Band was held in the Hollow Tree School after the first Twiggly and all the pupils had gone home. And it was a good thing they left, because if they had tried to do any studying while the animal gentlemen were getting up their band it would have been just too bad.

EVERY ONE IS PLEASED

Mr. Stubby, the kind bear gentleman, told what the meeting was for and he showed the different instruments he had brought to be played in the band. There was a fiddle, a trumpet, a big horn, a little horn, an umpty umpty horn, a clarinet, a flageolet, a cornet and a bassoon. They took turns drawing the names of the instruments out of Uncle Wiggily's tall silk hat. Mr. Stubby, the polar bear, drew a cornet and he liked that very much. He said it was his favorite instrument. When Mr. Twiggly's turn came he drew the big bass umpty umpty horn and he was happy.

Finally it came Uncle Wiggily's turn. He put his pig in his own hat, which Mr. Stubby held up in the air, and pulled out a piece of paper. On it was written the name of the big umpty umpty horn. The gentleman was to play. Uncle Wiggily read it and then he shouted:

"Hurray! That's the very thing I wanted next to a trumpet! Hurray!"

"What are you going to play in the band, Wiggly?" asked the pig. But we shall have to wait until tomorrow night to find out what it was. And if the five-and-ten-cent store will give the doorbell a diamond ring, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily beating the band.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1936

In the morning hour of this day there is an aspect most promising for ambitious projects, according to astrology. While benefic influences combine, adverse conditions may interfere with certain plans.

Under this planetary governance persons who exercise authority may be more helpful than usual. It is an auspicious time to ask favors or to seek employment. Conciliatory efforts are encouraged while this configuration prevails and success may be more than usually approachable. While labor is subject to Saturn's malefic sway, there will be many peaceful settlements of industrial controversies.

Women should make the most of today, which is auspicious for many social activities. Outdoor sports are well directed by the stars.

This should be a happy wedding day, although rapid attainment of wealth is not presaged. Congeniality and understanding should distinguish the marriage.

Today is favorable to peace-makers of every rank and should be helpful to diplomats. Unusual results of international conferences may be expected.

Women should buy materials for summer wardrobes, if they desire to make the most of their spending money. Rise in prices of many materials is prophesied. Education comes under a rule of the planets that crones many honors of their services.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of important developments in business affairs. Friendship, pleasure and change may be looked for, especially by women.

Children born on this day probably will be farseeing, well balanced and exceedingly intelligent. Subjects of this sign of Pisces usually have unusual gifts. They may be emotional and secretive.

James Russell Lowell, poet, was born on Washington's birthday, 1819. Others who have celebrated birthdays include Rembrandt Peale, portrait painter, 1778, and Edna St. Vincent Millay, poet, 1892.
